Welcome to the Winter 2022 Newsletter

Things have largely gone back to normal although show entries are far lower than at any time. I suppose this is due to any number of factors, such as people reluctant to return to large events, the cost of entries and fuel prices.

In committee news, we would like to give a big thank you to Rose Groom who is retiring from the committee after 33 years, having joined in 1989. I am sure you would all like to join me in sending our love and very best wishes to Rose.

Dawn Barry has also stepped down from the committee as she is retiring and moving away from the area. We would like to take this opportunity to thank Dawn for all her hard work and wish her a long, happy and healthy retirement!

Finally, we would like to welcome Joanne Byrne (Jolegi) to the committee who has been involved with Boxers for many years and brings a good deal of experience.

Our March Championship Show presented its own challenges due to the spread of Covid and our dog judge Amanda Payne falling ill. Thankfully she was okay and our referee Isobel Edison stepped in to sort out the dogs. Thanks to everyone who helped out on the day.

We were also a bit short-handed at our September Open Show and must thank Jane Clark for running the kitchen and Sue Kuech and Melissa Hawkins for helping to set up

We are a small committee and would struggle without this help, which means a lot so thank you all!

Finally, I would like to mention matches. Our message is simple, please use it or lose it. With rising costs and falling attendances we have cut a couple from next years' calendar and this will be kept under review. It would be a great pity to lose this valuable training ground for puppies and judges.

Judge: Chris Humphries

Best in Match: Merrey's Burnden Agent Provocateur

Reserve Best in Match: Peck's Manic Keep It Real for Enesha

Best Puppy: Hume & Bridle's Burnden Neptune

Thank you to the committee for inviting me to judge, always a welcoming club with a friendly atmosphere. Unfortunately, there were a few local open shows happening on the same day, which meant the turn out was unusually quite low. Its great the club still do the monthly rallies and I shall continue to support them, as we all should.

Best In Match: MERREYS, BURNDEN AGENT PROVOCATUER – B/W/B. A good balanced bitch! Correct, feminine shape of head and eye, which flows down to all the way from the strong arched neck, into well defined withers, with correct shoulder setup. Well boned, but not too much. Good rear angulation, moved with drive and purpose.

Reserve Best In Match: PECKS, MANIC KEEP IT REAL FOR ENESHA – B/W/D. Medium sized, square dog of good proportions. Clean head. Good bone, with lovely tight feet. Good depth of chest and spring of rib. Moved well. Just preferred the overall balance of the bitch.

Best Puppy In Match: BURNDEN NEPTUNE – B/W/D. Stylish 5 month old puppy, giving his handler a hard time, but both were enjoying every minute, which is what its all about! Square, stylish puppy, well off for bone. Moved with confidence and attitude.

Kennel Cough

Kennel Cough is a respiratory infection caused by a number of different bacteria and viruses.

It is not usually dangerous and normally clears up without treatment within a few weeks.

Apart from your dog coughing, the infection is unlikely to make them feel ill.

However, puppies, elderly dogs and those with medical conditions can be susceptible to complications from Kennel Cough, such as pneumonia.

Kennel Cough has an incubation period of 2 to 14 days,

The most obvious symptom is a forceful, hacking cough which will often sound like your dog has something stuck in his throat. It can be a dry, hoarse cough or productive (in which case it can be followed by a gag, swallowing motion or production of mucus). Some, but not all dogs will have a runny nose, sneezing or eye discharge.

Kennel Cough is airborne and highly contagious so it can spread quickly. It is also transmitted with bacteria on toys, food bowls or shared objects.

If your dog is showing any of these symptoms, please do not take it to a show or bring it to the Club. Whilst it might be non-threatening for your dog, others might have elderly or sick dogs at home or a litter of puppies.

All I Want for Christmas....

With Christmas fast approaching my resident mystery shoppers Barry & Terrance wanted to ensure that all their Boxer friends get some decent gifts this year. This is their wish list:

Nina Ottosson Puzzles (from £13)

The boys are huge fans of these boredom busters, although Terrance prefers brute force to working things out whilst Barry just shouts for his woman-servant to come and slide the pieces!

Kong (from £9)

Another great boredom buster you cannot go wrong with one of these. I have had some for 20 years that are still fine. The boys tell me that they prefer them stuffed with cream cheese or peanut butter. We recommend the black Kong if you have a powerful chewer like Terrance.

Outwood Hound Hide a Squirrel Toy (from £20)

The boys enjoy hours of fun extracting these cute squirrels from their tree, although they can be pretty annoying as they leave them all over the place.

And a definite no...

Rawhide bones. I once ruined my vet's Christmas Lunch when I had to dash over to her to extract one that was lodged in Henry, my first Boxer's throat.

Sadly as the boys have been extremely naughty this year, they are unlikely to turn things around in the remaining shopping days before Santa comes to visit, but they hope this market research proves useful!

How Intelligent is Your Dog?

Each part of this dog IQ test evaluates your dog's ability to think and find solutions to problems. Dogs who score well on this test might do well as service animals or working dogs.

1: Line up 3 empty cups / buckets in a row upside down. While your dog is watching, place a treat under one of the containers, then distract your dog with another activity for a minute. Afterward, let your dog go look for the treat. Scoring: 3 pts if they get the treat in one try, 2pts if they get the treat in two tries and 1pt if they get the treat in three tries.

2: Make a barrier with a cardboard box & piece of cardboard that is 5ft wide and taller than your dog when standing on their hind legs. Cut a window into the piece of cardboard that is 3" wide and starts 4" from the top of the piece of cardboard and ends 4" above the bottom. This window should be wide enough that your dog can see through it but can't walk through it. Now toss a treat behind the barrier. Your dog should be able to see the treat through the window. Scoring: 3pts if they go around the barrier to get the treat in thirty seconds or less. 2pts if they attempt to knock down the barrier or climb through the window, or it takes them more than thirty seconds to go around to the other side of the barrier.

3: Place a treat on the floor underneath a piece of furniture, like a chair or sofa, while your dog is watching. It needs to be low enough that only their paw, and not their snout, can reach it. Scoring: 3pts if they get the treat in under 1 minute using just their paw. If they attempt to get the treat with their snout and paws, give them 2pts. 1pt if they give up entirely.

4: Place a large towel or sheet over your dog's head. Scoring: 3pts for shaking the blanket off in under 15 seconds, 2pts for shaking it off in 15-30 seconds and 1pt if it takes longer than 30 seconds.

5: While your dog is watching you, pick up their lead at a time when you don't normally go for a walk. Scoring: 3pts if they immediately perk up and take the hint about going for a walk. 2pts if you have to walk to the door before they take the hint and 1pt point if they never catch on.

6: Pick a room in your home where your dog has a favourite place to lounge and send your dog out. Then move all the furniture to different places and let your dog back in. Scoring: 3pts if they immediately go to their favourite spot. 2pts if it takes them some investigating before they find their favourite spot and 1pt if they pick a new spot to lounge.

Final Points:

- More than 15 points: Your dog is super smart! Wowzah!
- 13–15 points: Your dog is still very smart and probably knows a few tricks.
- 9–12 points: Your dog is definitely trainable and probably could learn some tricks.
- 5–8 points: Your dog can learn basic commands with a little bit of work.
- 1–4 points: Your dog might not be the sharpest tool in the shed according to this test.

Our Amazing Canine Friends

Did you know?

A Dog's sense of smell is at least 40x better than ours?

Some have such good noses that they can sniff out medical problems?

Dogs can sniff at the same time as breathing.

Dogs don't sweat like we do, the only place they sweat is their paws and so they pant to cool down.

Your dog could be left or right pawed. Just like us dogs have a preferred hand (paw) to lead with. Give them their favourite toy and see which paw they use first.

Dogs have super sensitive hearing. They can hear at much higher frequencies but also much softer sounds so they can hear things much further away.

Dogs have 18 muscles controlling their ears.

Dogs are about as intelligent as a two-year old child.

The Three D's

On Match Days and at our obedience club we often have people who are surprised when their dog fails to do something on the day that they have trained and trained at home. They might stand, sit or stay beautifully in your kitchen but completely lose the plot in the Village Hall!

This is where the three D's of dog training are handy. They are duration, distance and distraction. Dogs do not generalise well which means that if they sit in front of you they do not know that sit means the same thing when you are 20 feet away from them.

As each D increases it is more difficult for your dog to understand what you want and if all three Ds are in play there is a very slim chance your dog will do what you ask without having trained for each one.

Duration = length of time your dog maintains the behaviour

Distance = how far away you are from the dog when he does the behaviour

Distraction = what else is going on around him when he is doing the behaviour

Only work on one D at a time.

When you train a new behaviour, start with short duration, minimal distance and in a non-distracting environment like an empty room. Build duration one second at a time and if he goes wrong, go back to a shorter interval.

The further away, the less reliable your dog will become so build slowly and always return to him before releasing or rewarding him.

Be sure the dog can handle distance, if applicable and duration before adding distractions. As you increase the difficulty consider increasing the rewards.

And the best thing to teach your dog?
"Leave it"!

Kennel Club Lunch

Thanks to Tim Hutchings for arranging lunch at the Kennel Club in July. This was a fantastic day out that included a tour of the library where there were numerous fascinating historical items including an archive from the Wardrobes Kennel.

We also had a tour of the Gallery where we saw some beautiful paintings and the beautiful bronze statue of Wardrobes Miss Mink.

We would thoroughly recommend this if he organises another date.
